HEARD DEFENDANT'S WITNESSES

Ex-Gov. Waller and F. V. Chappell Were Allowed to Testify Out of Regular Order in Rogers Suit Against City of New London-Plaintiff's Case Not All In Yet

having the city construct a sidewalk

Former Governor Thomas M. Waller and Frank Valentine Chappell testified in the suit before Superior Court Judge Shumway and jury in this city Wednesday morning in which the claim of $6,000 damage against the city of New London by Mrs. Mary F. Rogers for changing the grade in front of her property is being heard. Both the former governor and Mr. Chappell desired to attend the funeral of Frederick C. Palmer, it was stated to the court. They were witnesses for the defendant, but as the plaintiff made no objection their testimony was heard out of the regular order.

Mr. Waller asked to be permitted to make his statement in his own way and was allowed to do so. He told the fury of viewing the Rogers property and was allowed to do so. He told the fury of viewing the Rogers property and the attention of the wall as required would cost in all probability $100. Wednesday morning Henry A. Rogers and Hamilton R. Douglass testified and in the afternoon George A. Pitcher, a Norwich civil engineer, testified as to the confittion of the property as good as it was before. Major Hull of counsel for the plaintiff asked the former governor if he had not formerly been opposed to building sidewalks by the city. He said his opposition was to obliging people on one side of a street to construct a sidewalk and then having the city of the male the side of it.

Mr. Chappell's testimony was in effect that in his opinion the value of it.

SWAT THE ROOSTER CAMPAIGN AT STORRS. Leghorns Keeping Up the Race

Egg Laying Competition.

The Leghorns are more than keeping the pace in the laying contest at Storrs. They have set a new record by winning the first thirteen places in the thirty-first week. First honors were easily won by A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn., with a yield of 60 eggs. Second place, however, was contested for by Glenview Poultry farm, Rockville, Conn., Charles N. St. John, Greene, N. Y. Mrs. K. E. Woodruff, New Haven, Conn., and P. G. Platt, Wallingford, Pa., of whose pens yielded 57 eggs each. Three pens tied for third place with a score of 56 eggs each, viz: Thomas W. Moore, Central Village, Conn., Charles Heigl, Rocky River, Ohio, and George A. Cosgrove, West Willington, Conn. All of the above pens are White Leghorns. The English Leghorns that have outstripped the others for the past three

The English Leghorns that have out-stripped the others for the past three weeks fell off eight eggs and were thus out of the running but these birds have had bred into them such a store of vigor and vitality that they will undoubtedly "come back". The staying qualities are there.

Swat the Rooster. All of the "hendwells" in the laying All of the "hendwells" in the laying contest are now being regularly inspected for red mites. "Swat the Rooster" campaign have been inaugurated for the purpose of producing better market eggs but unless we swat the mites we may not have any eggs at all. The management of the competition does not expect to find mites on the plant in view of the san-litary conditions that are maintained train, and they were accompained by relatives.

There are tarty-four towns to whose assessment lists no additions are made this year, which is a decrease of one from last year, says the report signed by Edward S. Roberts treasurer; Daniel P. Dunn, comptroller, and William H. Corbin, tax commissioner, who comprize the Board of Equaliation, Twelve towns by revaluations have increased their lists in 1913 to an approximate statutory basis, and as heretofore, such increases have exceeded the previous additions by the Board of Equalization; several other towns increased their lists somewhat, the percentages of increase for all There are thaty-four towns to whose Board of Equalization; several other towns increased their lists somewhat, the percentages of increase for all these towns varying from seven to fifty-one per cent. Certain towns have a much larger list than last year, but it is not claimed that the assessed valuation of the property approximates valuation of the property approximates the statutory basis.

The additions to the lists have been made by the board after considering definite information supplied by town officials and the results of personal investigation or other competent testimony relative to assessment valuations. The action has been taken in accordance with the requirements of the statutes, and also to prevent so far as possible the penalizing of those towns which have voluntarily attempted to place their lists on the statutory basis. As heretofore, it has been necessary to make additions to the lists of some of the towns because of acknowledged lower percentage of assessment on certain special property, although an effort is made in such towns to keep up the general property valuations.

The revaluation of the real property in the towns at regular periods is definite business advantage to community, overcomes inequalities, and permits as a rule a lower tax rate. All towns that have taken this step are convinced of its benefit.
